

Belarusian National Technical University

Today, Belarusian National Technical University consists of 16 faculties, 115 departments, 25 branches of departments at enterprises, research establishments including 46 research laboratories, international Institute of distance education, 3 Institutes for Advanced Studies and Retraining of specialists and its 6 branches. The existing scientific schools of the university have received international recognition.

<http://www.bntu.by>

The Faculty of Military Engineering

It's a structural unit of the BNTU. The Military engineering Faculty is considered one of the best in the Republic of Belarus concerning educational and material base, modern technical facilities, computer technologies in educational process, living conditions of cadets

<http://www.bntu.by/vtf>

Graduating Department

«Military Automobile Technic»

The main special military subjects at the Department: «Operation of military vehicles», «The structure of military vehicles», «The maintenance of military vehicles», «Vehicles technical support and organization of military road transport», «Technical training and driving». The educational and material base allows to organize high quality training of specialists. Educational process is provided with the necessary books and electronic methodical complexes. Teachers have great practical special experience.

<http://www.bntu.by/vtf-vat>

BELARUSIAN NATIONAL TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY

Address :
59 Independence avenue
Minsk, Belarus
220013

Tel.: 8-017-293-91-90 (chief of Department)
Fax: 8-017-292-94-82
e-mail: korzun@bntu.by

BELARUSIAN NATIONAL TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY

The Department of Military Automobile Technic

How to become a military motorist

tel.: (017)293-91-90

Specialty : 1-37 01 06 Technical operation of vehicles

Specialization 1-37 01 06-02 «Technical operation of vehicles (military technic)»

About specialty

The military motorist is the technical military specialty which is connected with autotechnical provision of military units as one of the main components of combat and daily activities of troops. Task – management of technical condition of vehicles; technological design of separate elements and enterprises of the motor transport in general; mounting, adjustment, repair and technical maintenance of equipment at the motor transportation enterprises; design of technological processes of technical impacts on vehicles; the organization of autotechnical providing in peace and wartime; the operation of military vehicles training of the servicemen.

You can acquire additional skills, depending on your abilities and rank promotion.

This profession suits to people with engineering thinking as it demands the deep concentration of attention, logical thinking and self-organization.

At the

The term of training of regular officers is 4 years.

General professional knowledge

Engineering graphics, Theoretical mechanics, Mechanics of materials, Engines, Technology of materials, Standardization of accuracy and technical measurements, Materials science, Machine parts, Economics, Automobiles, etc.

Special military knowledge

Marching drill, tactics, firing practice, management of units in peace time, ideological work, etc. While training the focus is made on practical skills.

Training is 30-36 hours per week
Independent work is obligatory for cadets training.

Military professional knowledge

Vehicles technical support and organization of military road transport; The structure of military vehicles; Operation of military vehicles; The maintenance of military vehicles; Technical training and driving. The cadets are trained in accordance with principles of the current legislation and normative legal acts.

Research activity

The most active cadets who have excellent results in studies, research work and military discipline get the Diploma of scientific work signed by the head of the BNTU. These graduates can get postgraduate education in BNTU magistracy.

Living conditions

Accommodation is in the hostel of BNTU. 3-4 cadets share a room.

Good facilities for study, rest, social life and sporting events; modern service establishments are at the disposal of cadets.

3 meals a day - in the mess of BNTU in a special hall for cadets.

Material support (uniform, etc.) is given to cadets according to the existing norms.

After graduating and passing the final exams, in accordance with the educational standard, the graduate is awarded the qualification of "mechanical Engineer, specialist in management» and the first officer rank "Lieutenant" is commissioned.

